

Repentance is more than asking for forgiveness—it's about removing what led to sin in the first place.

You don't have to stay where you are.
You can step into a new life today.

REHOBOTH SPRINGS

@rehobothsprings.ca

Tariffs Are Coming!

How to Avoid the Ultimate Cost

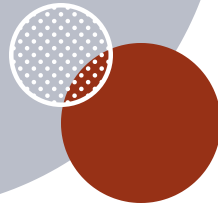

It started as a normal day at the market. People were going about their business when an announcement changed everything: tariffs were being imposed immediately. Prices skyrocketed. Panic set in. Some people rushed to stock up on goods, while others stood in shock, realizing they weren't prepared for what was coming.

But here's the catch—these tariffs didn't just appear out of nowhere. They were the result of something someone failed to do. Somewhere along the line, rules weren't followed, responsibilities were ignored, and now, the consequences How to Avoid the Ultimate Cost were hitting hard.

This is more than just an economic situation—it's a picture of a much bigger reality. Just like tariffs are imposed due to broken agreements, sin carries a cost that affects all of us. And whether we're prepared or not, the consequences are real.

www.rehobothsprings.ca

Maybe you don't think much about sin. Maybe it feels like just another religious word. But think about this: have you ever felt the weight of regret? Ever done something you knew was wrong, but couldn't undo? That's the effect of sin—it creates a debt that doesn't just go away.

The Bible puts it this way:

“For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.” — Romans 6:23

Sin separates us from the life and peace we were meant to have. It creates guilt, brokenness, and distance between us and God. And just like tariffs don't go away until the cause is addressed, sin's penalty doesn't disappear on its own.

But here's the good news: you don't have to live under that burden. Jesus has already paid the price for you Think about it—if a country wants tariffs to be lifted, it doesn't just complain about high prices. It goes to the root of the problem and fixes what caused them in the first place.

The same is true for us. We can't just wish away the consequences of sin—we need to remove what's causing the separation between us and God.

That's what real repentance is about. It's not just saying “sorry” and going back to the same things. It's about making a U-turn, removing what's keeping us from God, and walking in a new direction.

The Bible puts it like this:

“Let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us.” — Hebrews 12:1

“God is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but for everyone to come to repentance.” — 2 Peter 3:9

If a country wants to fix its mistakes and remove tariffs, it takes action. If you want freedom from the weight of sin, it starts with a choice.

Here is How to Experience Real Change

1. Recognize What's Wrong: Be honest with yourself. Where have you messed up? What's weighing on your heart? Ignoring it won't make it go away.

“Whoever hides their sins won't succeed, but whoever confesses and leaves them behind finds mercy.” — Proverbs 28:13

2. Ask for Forgiveness: God isn't waiting to judge you—He's waiting to set you free. Talk to Him.

“If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us and cleanse us from all wrongdoing.” — 1 John 1:9

3. Remove What's Holding You Back: If something is leading you into sin, it's time to let it go. That might mean ending certain habits, changing the way you think, or surrounding yourself with the right influences.

“If your hand or your eye causes you to sin, get rid of it.” — Matthew 5:30 (Jesus wasn't talking about literally cutting off body parts—He was making a point: take sin seriously!)

4. Move Forward in a New Direction: Following Jesus isn't about being religious—it's about living with purpose and freedom.

“Do not conform to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind.” — Romans 12:2

If you're ready to leave the weight of sin behind and start new, you can pray this:

God, I know I've messed up. I've made mistakes, and I can't fix them on my own. But I believe Jesus already paid the price for me. I ask for Your forgiveness, and I choose to turn away from my old ways. Change me from the inside out and help me follow You. Thank You for loving me. In Jesus' name, Amen.

If this message spoke to you, don't keep it to yourself—share it with someone else who needs hope.